Term 2 Overview

On Bush Trips this term we investigated the changes in the environment we can see in the change from Kudjewe to Yekke, including the new bush foods we can eat!

In English, students are learning explicit ways to sound out and write words. This is a great way to support targeted learning opportunities for Bininj students. Students have been using both the 'Sounds Write' and 'Heggerty' programs to learn phonemic awareness and phonics skills. They have been learning how to hear, pronounce and write sound/letter correlations, whilst blending and segmenting words for reading and writing.

In the classroom, we studied "Kookoo Kookaburra" by Gregg Dreise exploring how kindness is like a boomerang. Students learnt what some of the important English words in that story mean and translated them into Kunwinjku. Students have been writing recounts and narrative sentences, and leading oral discussions to develop their grammar and vocab skills.

In Mathematics, students have been practicing number work including writing our numbers correctly, and counting forwards and backwards. Students practiced their skills in telling the time. Younger students made an analogue clock, and moved the hour and minute hands to learn how to recognise time at o'clock and half past, while older students worked on quarter past and quarter to the hour. All students are working on number skills and everyone is very excited when they can see improvements in their results through the ACARA Learning Progressions.
